COMMISSION PLANS VEX ALTONA CRS.

Altona council is anxious to arrange a major deputation to the Housing Commission as soon as possible, to discuss the future of the former Paisley briquette depot site.

All but 45 acres of the depot site will be taken over by the Commission in November this year.

The SEC is retaining 30 acres at the Ross Road end for storage purposes and the remaining 15 acres has been acquired by the Education Department for Paisley High School.

Commenting on the matter at last week's council meeting, Cr. Les Crofts said: "I am delighted to see this depot go as a result of pressure on the SEC by this council and although I do not want Housing Commission homes in its place at least they are better than a briquette dump."

"I move that we arrange a major deputation to meet representatives of the Commission as soon as possible", he said.

Cr. Crofts was supported by Cr. Ray Richards, who added: "I'm also happy to see the depot go, but I will not be happy to see the Housing Commission drop about 3000 people in its place without providing the proper facilities."

"If Commission homes are to be built there, then they should be accompanied by an infant welfare centre, a youth centre, and other essential amenities."

"It should certainly not be up to this council and the ratepayers of this community to foot the bill for the Housing Commission."

"The sooner we arrange a deputation, the better", he said. The motion by Cr. Crofts was passed.

Town clerk, Mr. Syd Fell, told councillors that correspondence from council and the Paisley High School Committee relative to the extension of the high school area had been forwarded to the Housing Commission.

Baby Mai's fine now

Smiling Mai Suyin Williams has done nothing but smile and gain weight since she was smuggled into Australia about five weeks ago.

Mai Suyin, 16 months, was one of the five babies brought to the country from Vietnam and has found a home and an adoring family in Moore Street, Altona.

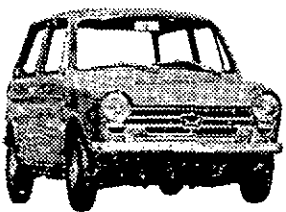

Her new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, say Mai Suyin has brought them nothing but happiness.

She is the third child they have adopted — the others are Andrew 4, and Lissa 2 1/2 months.

Mrs. Williams estimated that it cost about $500 to bring the child from South Vietnam, but that it had all been worth it.

Ranger company for Altona

A Ranger Company — for girls
14 to 20 years — is being formed in Altona.

It will be the first
Ranger company in Altona, where there are already three Guide companies and three Brownie packs.

The District Commissioner, Mrs. Dorothy Wood, issued an invitation yesterday for girls or their parents to inquire regarding membership with her,
by telephoning 398 2871.

Mrs. Wood said that the Guide movement was able to extend this senior branch to girls in the area
when Miss Imelda Hyde, of David Street, Altona, agreed to lead the Rangers.

Miss Hyde is a teacher at St. Mary's School in Altona.

Mrs. Wood said the Guide and Scout movements had to limit numbers because of inability to obtain sufficient mature people as leaders. When someone offered themselves, irrespective of whether they had experience in the movement, companies could extend.
The Ranger movement

'Big sister'
to guiding'

has been modernised in keeping with trends to have Scouts and Guides keep pace with development.

The Rangers wear a forage cap, after the style of WAAF's, and the uniform is Navy Blue, with a light blue blouse.

School's walk approved

Altona Council has granted permission for Altona North Technical

The school principal told council the money raised would be used for the purpose of audio visual equipment. He said 400 students would take part in the walkathon.

Pollution at school

Following a request from Altona North Techni-

Lions raise $400 in paper drive

Pictured are two members of the club engaged on one of the collections, which are on the first Sunday mornings each month. At left is Mr. Charlie Trickey, incoming president of the club, with Mr. Alan McDonald, president in the Lions' year ending on July 1.

Reporting on the success of the collections at the annual hand over dinner at the Tarmac Hotel at Laverton on Wednesday, the retiring president, Mr. Alan McDonald, said it enabled the club to assist worthy causes.

"Charities have been assisted and the club bought a refrigerator and a washing machine for a widow and family in poor circumstances," he said.

"A donation of $50 also was made to Altona Apex Club to sponsor a girl in its 1972 Miss Apex Appeal.

Mr. McDonald said that Lions had taken part in the Combined Service Club's Building Appeal for Altona District Hospital. "I think our main assistance was from the sale of recipe books which netted $470 for the appeal," he said.

A member of the club who was a printer, Mr. Norman Woodcock, had led in this project.

He added that an annual barbecue conducted at the home of Mr. Joe Hanykyr had raised some $400.

Mr. Jack McGuckian had organised the sale of Lions' International Christmas cakes. This resulted in a boost for the appeal to save the eyesight of people with eye ailments.

Mr. Tom Sause had been a conscientious secretary.

Mr. McDonald said that the club had increased its membership and aimed to gain further new members.

Club officers for the new Lions' year were installed by Mr. Len Rowe.

Mr. Rowe and his wife, Merle, had travelled from Sydney for the occasion. They moved to Sydney recently, following Mr. Rowe's appointment as managing director of Continental Carbon Aust., Pty. Ltd.

.240 DRIVER 'GROUNDED'

An Altona man was fined $70 and lost his licence for 12 months in Williamstown Court last Thursday.

Otto Ronnberg of Queen Street, Altona, pleaded guilty before Mr. H. Boarder SM to charges of having driven with a blood alcohol level of more than .05 per cent. and having exceeded 40 miles per hour in a 40 mile an hour zone.

Constable N. Barron of Williamstown police told the court he was on patrol duty in Millers Road, Altona, at 1.40 a.m. on June 18, when he caught sight of Ronnberg's car.

He followed him for about three-tenths of a mile at 50 miles an hour. Ronnberg told him he did not realise he was going so fast.

Constable Barron said he smelled alcohol on Ronnberg's breath and took him back to Williamstown police station for a breathalyser test.

This showed Ronnberg's blood alcohol level at .240 per cent.

Constable Barron told Mr. Boarder SM there was very little traffic on Millers Road at the time of the offence and Ronnberg had not interfered with any other motorists.

Mr. Boarder fined Ronnberg $50 on the charge of having driven with a blood alcohol level greater than .05 per cent. and cancelled his licence for 12 months.

Ronnberg was also fined $20 for having exceeded 40 miles an hour.

Wait on groynes

A recent request by Altona Council, for the construction of additional groynes along the foreshore, has been refused by the Board of Works.

A recent letter to council from a Board representative read: "In reply to your letter regarding the section of foreshore between Mount Street and Davies Street, I have been directed by the Planning and Highways Committee, to inform you that at the present time the Board is not prepared to construct the additional groynes requested, or supply materials for such construction.

"However, the situation could be revised following a period of observation to ascertain the effects of the existing four groynes."

FORD MAN TALKS ON FITNESS

Managing director of Col Paige Ford, Mr. Col Paige, led St. Paul's College students on a run and exercise workout last week.

Mr. Paige talked to students about the need for exercise in this age of automation and mechanisation.

He said he placed great importance on fitness for business executives and fitness had proved a main contributor to success.

He pointed out that Australia's high rate of heart disease cost industry $50 million a year in production delays, not to mention family grievances.

St. Paul's College students gather round as Mr. Paige tells them the importance of physical fitness.

VW's NEW SAFETY CAR

Volkswagen has announced its experimental safety vehicle, the ESVW, which has been designed to provide maximum safety.

Dulles International Airport, Washington, DC, was the location for the first United States International Transportation Exposition.

Shown publicly for the first time, Volkswagen's Experimental Safety Vehicle demonstrated radical new safety concepts.

The basic design is a good-looking four-door sedan, among its new safety features being front and rear bumpers that telescope and side bumpers that give protection in side crashes.

Crashworthiness, rather than transportation as such, was the prime goal of the ESVW project, the result of 18 months of work by Volkswagen's research and development staff.

However, the car is surprisingly attractive and practical as well as being highly manoeuvrable and extremely stable.

Through their frequent testing of components and assemblies, VW engineers believe that the ESVW, when it is crashed, will enable its mannikin occupants to survive a 75 mph impact with a parked car of twice its weight.

The ESVW will never find a home in the family garage — it is a concept car, one that presses design and production talents near their limits in exploring new ideas to cope with the hostile environment of a high-speed collision.

However, the ESVW is more than an engineering exercise.

According to Professor Ernst Fiala, head of research and development: "From this experiment we hope to learn how much crashworthiness can be built into the family car without greatly reducing practicality, and, just as important, without too extreme a cost."

Among the performance criteria built into the ESVW, survival in the following collisions are most important:

- A 50 mph. head-on crash into a rigid pole or a fixed barrier.
- Two consecutive roll-overs.
- A 90 degree side impact into the ESVW by another vehicle twice its weight moving at 30 mph.
- A 15 mph. side impact into a fixed pole.
- Angular crashes of the front of the ESVW into a fixed barrier at a speed of 50 mph. at a 15 degree impact angle and at 30 mph. at 45 degrees.
- A head-on crash into a parked vehicle twice the weight of the ESVW at 75 mph.
- A rear-end collision by a vehicle twice the weight of the ESVW at 40 mph.

To produce a car crashworthy in such accidents, VW developed both front and rear-engineered concepts and tried to use only conventional automaking materials rather than lightweight "exotic" metals.

The result was that the 2000 pounds target weight was exceeded by about 1200 pounds but construction costs were held down as much as possible.

The aim was to produce a functional car that will yield safety data that can, as quickly as practicable, be translated into production techniques.

(The weight of the U.S. ESVs — even using "exotic" materials — is about 6000 pounds).

The ESVW utilises a combination of rigid perimeter "tough shell" construction backed by crumple zones that deform and absorb crash energy at known rates. This kind of construction makes it possible for the front end, for example, to perform as desired in crashes against both fixed poles and flat barriers.

In low speed collisions from the front or rear, telescoping hydraulic bumpers absorb impact and return to normal shape and position with no damage.

At higher speeds after the initial impact absorption takes place in the bumper cylinders, a back-up hydraulic system takes over until at high speeds the sheet metal itself becomes the energy absorbing medium.

The front bumper has a total telescope stroke of eight inches, while the rear bumper has a five inch stroke and absorbs a 5 mph. impact without damage.

Though VW has performed research with air bags, the ESVW does not use them. It is the only ESV that does not.

Instead, it is equipped with an advanced passive, pre-loaded, energy-absorbing restraint system utilising a shoulder belt and a knee belt. Operation of the safety belts requires no action by car occupants and in normal driving the occupants are unencumbered.

An across-the-chest belt handbags loosely in front the occupant in normal driving and there is no knee restriction. In a low-speed collision, the occupant is restrained by the loose belt and a padded knee bar.

At speeds over 15 mph, as the front bumper telescopes inward at the moment of impact, a sensor located inside the bumper sets off a charge within a closed cylinder.

Gas expansion activates a device which tightens the belt across the occupant's chest and deploys the lower belt that grips his knees. The activating mechanism is housed out of sight in the central tunnel while the knee belts are concealed by the knee bar.

battle of the giants!!

In a dramatic confrontation between drivers and promoters at the Surfer's Paradise circuit, the fourth round of the Australian Sports Car Championship was successfully boycotted by local drivers. The dispute over prize money resulted in severely depleted grids for all events and caused the virtual collapse of the meeting.

Auto Action has a full report of the meeting — such as it was! There was much more action at Adelaide where Moffat and Jane fought tooth and nail for victory in the fifth round of the Australian Touring Car Championship. Both drivers were shown the bad sportsmanship flag during a race-long dice which is one of the closest seen at the A.I.R.

Auto Action's photo coverage of the exciting meeting is just one of the great features of the latest big issue. All rallies, rally-cross, in fact any meeting of importance is fully covered in Auto Action Out Now. A ton of Action for 25 cents.

After 20 years, a new life

For more than 20 years Harold Coon's life was crippled by migraine headaches.

Harold, of St. Albans Road, Keilor, spent two or three days every week in bed.

Harold tried many doctors — and many cures — and they were all of no avail.

He was told that his headaches were caused by everything from a slipped disc in his back to a hereditary illness. But nothing could cure them.

Then Harold, 55, read a story in a magazine. It told how Princess Margaret, a severe migraine sufferer, had established a migraine clinic in London.

Harold phoned the clinic and asked if it would be worth travelling to England to be treated.

He was told that the clinic had affected some miraculous cures, but would not guarantee anything.

Harold took the gamble — he flew to England, had a thorough examination, and some pills were prescribed.

This time, they said he headaches were caused simply by nervous tension. The result was miraculous—from Harold's point of view, anyway.

A daily tablet and the chance of getting a migraine was greatly reduced.

And if one happened to strike, there was another pill to take care of that.

Harold was a new man. He considers his decision to fly to England the turning point in his life.

Thousands of Victorians have their lives hampered by the same problem, and, through it, many thousands of work hours are lost every year.

But Harold says there is little help available for the migraine sufferer here.

He would like to see a migraine clinic set up and some know-how obtained from overseas. No doubt his co-sufferers would agree.

Harold ran a used car business in Sunshine for more than 20 years, and is now semi-retired.

His greatest ambition in life now is to give all the help he can to his fellow migraine sufferers.

• Harold Coon: After 20 years of crippling migraines he can at last live a normal life. Now he is trying to help other migraine sufferers.

HAVE FUN IN THE KITCHEN

Home economics is fun, according to the Council of Adult Education.

And they have planned a two-day course during the August - September school holidays to prove it.

The course, designed for those who want to be creative — economically — in the kitchen, will be held at the Emily McPherson College on August 24 and 25.

The programme will cover such topics as planning interesting and economical family menus, hints on wise shopping.

The Council also has two other short courses planned.

Mr. Peter Hunter will conduct two identical one-day courses titled "Photography for travellers" on August 19 and 20 at 160 Lygon Street, Carlton.

POP STAR — with Ron Coleman

After weeks of waiting the big one has almost arrived. Daddy Cool will appear at the Werribee dance this Sunday night, with a host of other groups.

For most young people in the area, this will be the last chance to see the group before it returns to the United States for yet another tour.

The normal free bus will operate from Altona and Laverton.

Incidentally, it would not be fair of me if I didn't make mention of the fact that D.C.'s guitarist, Ian Winters, played his first gig in Melbourne at Altona Youth Club, would you believe?

He was in a group called Pig Face at the time and before that he appeared at the Brooklyn Drive-In with Warehouse.

Ian is from Canberra. The big news is out: Thorpie and Blackfeather have been booked for appearances at the Tarmac, and about time too.

The Thursday night disco-dance commenced last week with Kush. Keep posted for further details.

Fuzzy-haired George Sherenberg, formerly of Brown-Eyed Handsome Jam and Patchwork Quilt, and now with Terraplane, was knocked out by the fact that the lead guitarist of Chicago plays the same guitar as he does.

George, an avid collector of Gibsons, has one that you cannot buy in Australia. You have to buy it in from the United States.

And even then its, too late, because its a discontinued line.

And Altona has another entrant in the Battle of the Sounds.

Blues group, Terraplane have decided to have another crack at it.

Apparently the younger set from St. Leo's Parish in Altona North are all for the idea of folk and pop concert.

Might be some merit in that suggestion. If you have any ideas yourself, why not drop us a line. Address your letters to me C/- 260 Barkly Street, Footscray.

And, speaking of Drive-Ins, I hope to have a few free passes to farm out to our readers soon.

So stay tuned for details.

Bye for now, Ron.

Free bus to Daddy Cool happening

Provision of a free bus will enable dance goers from Altona and Laverton to see Australia's top pop group Daddy Cool at the Werribee dance this Sunday night.

The bus will leave the corner of Pier and Blyth streets at 8 p.m., stopping at Somers Parade, Altona West, Laverton and Hoppers Crossing on the way.

The dance on Sunday night already promises to be the biggest yet of the fortnightly Sunday dances in Werribee, and promoters may have to hire an extra bus for the evening.

Daddy Cool will be on stage at the Centenary Hall for well over an hour. They will be supported by a host of up-and-coming groups.

In fact nearly all the local suburbs will be represented.

Booked to appear are Guthrie from Laverton, Poltergeist from Altona, and Brooklyn group, Lucifer.

And an appearance by a young Altona singer called simply Nedge will be another highlight.

Brownies get $60

Altona North brownies and guides have been presented with a cheque for $60 and a shield following their Altona beach cleaning expedition.

The money will go towards their building fund and equipment for the packs.

One brownie, Carol Gavin, has enrolled with the Second Altona North brownies.

Jane Colquhoun and Michelle Taylor have earned road safety badges, Leonie Vocer, Vicki Charles and Debra Crane have received their footpath badges and Alison Middlebrook and Michelle Taylor their road badge.

Jane Colquhoun and Shelley Chapman won their third service stars.

Pack leader Gail Mathews has been presented with stripes and lanyard. Her name is Raindrop.

Three brownies, Leanne Deller, Kay Dale and Leanne Robinson, have enrolled with the Third Altona North brownies.

Theresa Robertson won her Cook's badge but has since gone up to the guides.

The North Altona guides and brownies recently held a street stall which was a great success, thanks to all the mothers who donated food.

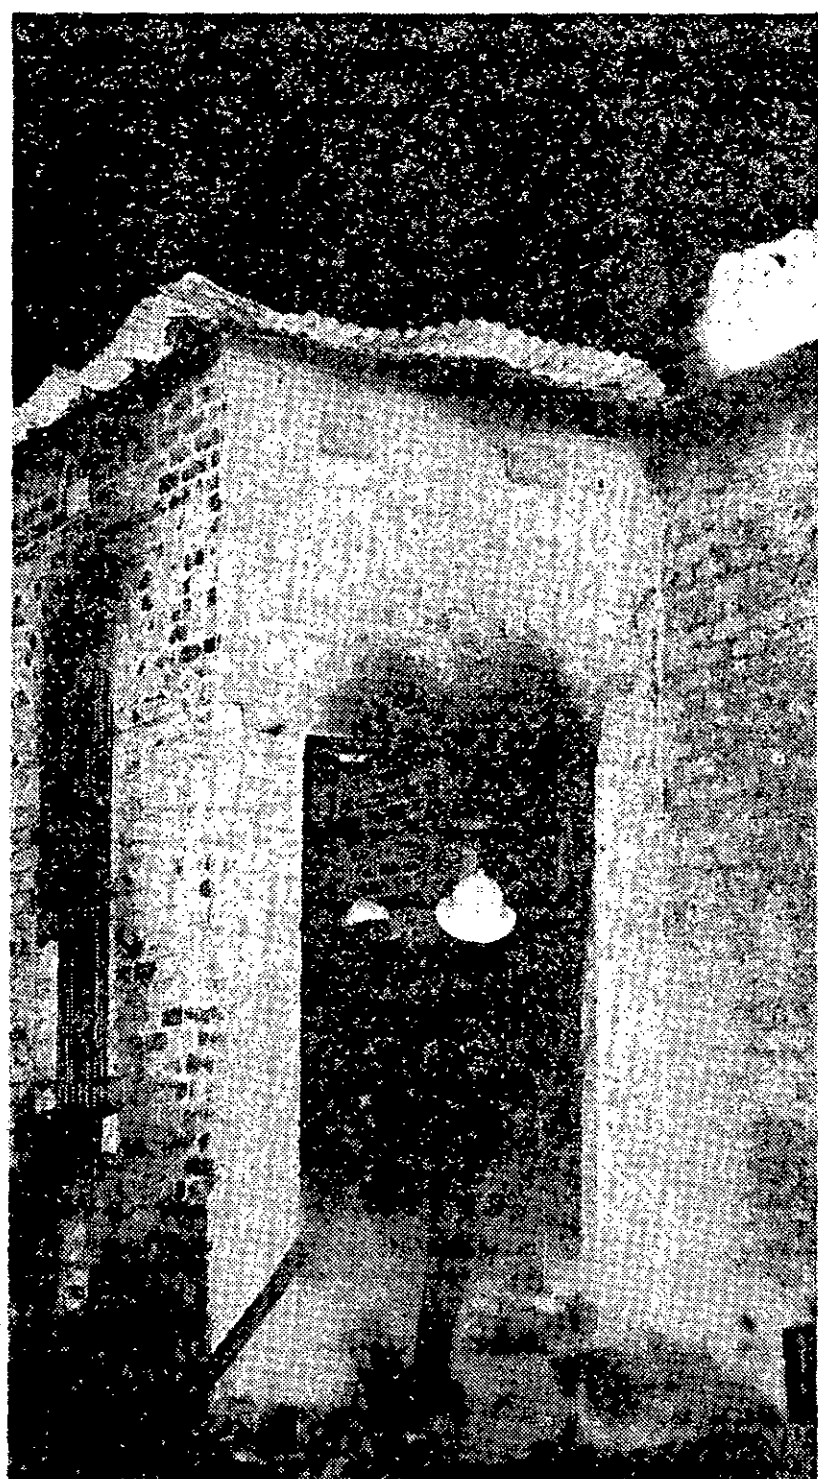

The proceeds will also go towards the building fund.

The group's annual meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on July 25 in the Lutheran church, The Broadway, North Altona.

TAA will provide a speaker and films for the night.

All mothers and fathers of brownies and guides are invited to attend.

Fire takes slice of history

An historic relic from Altona's past was partially destroyed by fire on Saturday night.

Flames leaping many feet in to the air attracted many residents to the fire in an explosives magazine in the Explosives Reserve at Altona.

The magazine was built in the 1890s and was used for storing explosives unloaded at the old pier.

Campbells and cat are staying put

The Housing Commission wants Mrs. Edna Campbell out of her Osborne Street home as soon as possible.

But Mrs. Campbell and her Persian cat, Perry, are staying put in the home they have been fighting with the Commission about for six years.

The Commission says that the house is unfit for human habitation.

It also feels that Mrs. Campbell has had a fair go.

But to Mrs. Campbell, 60 Osborne Street, Williamstown, has been home for 25 years.

And as far as she is concerned she is staying put.

Mrs. Campbell will be the first person to admit that her home needs some repair work.

She also agrees that a coat of paint would only be a temporary measure in lieu of the work needed on the house.

But it is still home to this invalid pensioner and her two sons, Raymond 26, and Colin, 24.

The Housing Commission originally served a demolition order on the Campbell's weatherboard home in September 1966.

Mrs. Campbell suffers from asthma, a spinal injury and porphyria.

Porphyria is a disease which causes severe body pains and paralysis.

She is under doctor's orders not to work and that if the Commission over her head, she cannot afford a move. She says she wants to stay in the Osborne Street local residence flats area.

Leslie had to struggle extremely hard to win the match 6-4 6-3.

Suzanne kept her moving all over the court but Leslie proved the more consistent on the day.

Two matches were played in the quarter-finals of the B grade singles, where Ian Collins and Alan Findlay won their way into the semi-final.

A GRAND RESULT FROM BIG WALK

One hundred and forty walkers, representing nine organisations, raised over $1000 in Project Concern's 'A Million Miles for Mankind' walk on Saturday.

The largest team comprised 90 parents, teachers and students from Williamstown State School.

The walk started at Gaudion Reserve, Barkly Street, and finished at Komp's Health Studio, Barkly Street, West Footscray.

Half the money raised will be retained by the clubs and the other half will be used by Project Concern to build a medical centre in Indonesia.

Walkers appreciated the hot pool at Komp's Health Studio. Half the people walked about five miles and the other half walked 10 miles.

Two Miss Footscray entrants were participating along with their teams.

They were Miss Beverly Goods and Miss Gail

Mann. Both girls walked 10 miles.

The average walker took three hours to walk 10 miles, and fastest time was 2¼ hour.

Noise complaint

A letter has been received by council signed by 22 residents of North Road, Newport.

The letter complains of noise emitting from a hall in North Road. It asked council to investigate the activities of the organisation occupying the hall in an endeavor to improve conditions for residents in the area.

The chief health inspector will report on the matter.

Council bares teeth on building permits

Williamstown Council will use a decision it made on a Housing Commission matter to fight the Newport Power Station.

Council has received confirmation from its solicitors, Messrs. Fowler and Hick, that the Housing Commission should have provided Land Use permits under the Town and Country Planning Act and building permits under the Uniform Building Regulations before constructing lone-person projects at the corner of Hanmer and Thompson Streets.

And council will discuss the same points in its next public works meeting over the building of the SEC sub-station at Newport.

A letter will be forwarded to the Housing Commission, Victoria with a copy to the Minister for Housing stating that under the regulations the council requires the Commission to apply for and obtain land use and building permits before building in the Williamstown municipal area.

The lone-person projects are nearing completion but council will advise the Commission that it will take legal action if the matter is not given immediate attention.

The SEC is expected to receive the same treatment over the construction of the sub-station at Newport which is also nearing completion.

But an SEC spokesman told our reporter: "The sub-station is on land zoned for SEC purposes and no permits are necessary".

The spokesman added that it was normally a matter of courtesy for the SEC to send drawings to Council of any buildings it planned to build.

He explained that the sub-station would be completed this month and would be put into progressive service between November 1972 and February, 1973.

The sub-station would be used to reinforce electricity supply service.

We don't want weed killer

Gellibrand Street residents have complained to Council because it sprayed weed killer on the street's nature strip.

The area concerned is in front of the block of flats at number four.

The flat owners recently spent $80 on having the strip levelled and grassed and contend that there was no need for the council action.

They have requested that council inform of future weed spraying action.

Koorringal golf club

Warming up the seats of justice

Magistrates sitting in the Mechanics Institute Williamstown, need freeze no more.

Council has given permission for additional power points to be installed in the building.

This follows an observation by the acting director-general of the public works department, Victoria, that the heating used for Magistrates Court activities at the institute is "inadequate".

And a decision to provide five electric heaters help alleviate the problem.

Vikings storm to 147-point victory

In a march highlighted by brilliant individual displays the Altona City Vikings bludgeoned Laverton to submission, winning by 147 points.

The significant factor in City's big win was the irrepressible strength and ability all over the ground.

Kicking into the breeze in the first quarter, Altona City took some time to get into top gear. Hitting their straps with the wind at their tails, the Vikings forged to a 12-goal lead at half-time.

Laverton salvaged a little of its pride in the third quarter by matching Altona in all departments. Its renewed life put it to the ball first, and some strange decisions by the field umpire, who had done nothing to enhance the game as a spectacle, helped Laverton to get a couple of "charity" goals.

Laverton managed to kick more goals — seven in all — against Altona City than any other side this season.

The Viking reaction to this was extremely harsh, as they slammed on 12 goals in the last quarter.

Ron Schwarbe treated the spectators to as good a display of forward work as they are ever likely to witness in this grade of football.

Ron was in top form at full-forward, booting 13 goals, and creating opportunities for his team mates to kick five or six more.

His strongest point is his safe marking. Back this up with demoralising handball to advantage, and accurate kicking and you have an enormous start on your opponents.

Laurie Egan, replacing captain-coach Mal Tisdale in the centre, roamed far and wide to gather 33 kicks in a brilliant display.

Gordon Wilson would be one of the most underrated rovers in the competition, as week after week he quietly goes about the business of winning the ball and driving his team into attack incessantly.

Geoff Ewen in top form, crashed his way through opponents, displaying strength and courage at its best. Darby Munro continued his excellent form at centre half-forward, his marking ability and mobility being a decided advantage.

Ian Hardham, first time up in the firsts, acquitted himself admirably with pace and accurate foot passing.

Alan Walgers led his opponent a merry dance on the half-forward flank.

Kevin Flett played strongly on the opposite flank.

Stephen Chatfield, as usual, picked up a heap of kicks, capping off a consistent game with six invaluable goals.

Glen Morgan, on the wing, made full use of his limited opportunities, and was a big help to the forwards with some fine passing.

Enzo Valenti did what was required of him at centre half-back with some strong clearing dashes.

Goalkeepers: R. Schwabe 13, S. Chatfield 6, G. Wilson 4, G. Munro 3, and one each to D. York, K.

Flett, A. Walgers and M. Crump.
Final scores: Altona City 30.15 (195) to Laverton 7.6 (48).

SECOND DIVISION
 Unfortunately the Second Division side received a walkover from Newport.

UNDER-18.
 Producing their best form for the season, the Viking Under-18's crushed West Newport at Grant Reserve on Sunday.

Combining better as a team than at any other time this season, Altona showed just what can be done when players put their minds to the job at hand.

Good creative play-on football was the order of the day.

Started on the last line of defence and carried right up the ground, this constructive team play paralysed the opposition.

Jock O'Connor performed with brilliance, lacking nothing in endeavor or courage and John Hampton was particularly impressive on the ball.

David Marshall asserted his authority in the ruck duels and in general field play.

Cecil Martin was a solid defender, never putting a foot wrong particularly when under pressure from some solid opponents.

Mike Starcevic held complete control at pivot. Alan Willett stretched his long arms and pulled down some delightful marks.

Ken Churchill back after a spell, soon got into the swing of things and contributed effectively on many occasions.

Glen Groves showed out well whenever the opportunity arose.

Bill Backhouse also produced a creditable game.

Final scores: Altona City 29.28 (202) defeated West Newport 5.5 (35).

UNDER-16
 At the Newport oval on Saturday the Vikings put on a solid game to run out comfortable winners.

It is hard to say that Altona has improved, but the fact that it won and never looked like losing is enough in itself to suggest that the lads were suffering from a temporary mid-season slump.

It should be eradicated before finals time and they will be full of confidence for the major battles.

Alan Moore, making his debut with the under-16s, carried everything before him in a stylish display of ruck work.

He was ably supported by Glen Knight, who appeared to lift his game which was helped by the dominance of his co-ruckmen.

Andrew Donnelly continued his good form, highlighting his efforts with some brilliant high-marking.

Wayne Jones was a human dynamo and particularly impressive when moved to the centre.

Tony Paone dominated proceedings at centre half-forward and Kevin Bebed showed out well on innumerable occasions, as did Steve Parkin.

Final scores: Altona City 13.12 (90) defeated Newport 8.6 (54).

ROBERT THOMAS MOTORS AWARD voting:

First: R. Schwabe 5, Egan 4, G. Wilson 3, G. Ewen 3, G. Munro 3.

U-18: J. O'Connor 5, J. Hampton 4, R. Willett 3, W. Backhouse 2, D. Marshall 1.

U-16: A. Moore 5, T. Paone 4, A. Donnelly 3, G. Knight 2, W. Jones 2.

There will be an inter-league match next Sunday at Newport Oval, starting at 2.30 p.m. — Western Suburbs v. Bacchus Marsh.

Congratulations to the Altona City players who made the team: Mal Tisdale (captain-coach) in the centre, Ron Schwarbe at centre half-forward, Steve Chatfield roving, Marty Crump ruck-rover, Alan Walgers half-forward flank and Vic Pateras half-back flank.

A treat is in store for those people who attend, as these games are always keenly contested.

The WSFL have gone all out this year to win and take over the coveted perpetual trophy which it has yet to win.

The squad has been training together regularly and this is expected to help a great deal.

It was a wasted trip for Altona

Central Altona's journey to Werribee last weekend proved a disappointing trek for both the A and B division teams.

Neither side was in form and there will need to be rapid improvement if they are to produce the standards they have shown in the past.

Werribee, although kicking into the breeze, outplayed Centrals from the first bounce.

Centrals lacked cohesion and teamwork. Players fumbled badly and their kicking lacked distance and accuracy. Centrals managed their only goal for the quarter when Misha Lawrin hand passed to Ted Jepson.

Werribee anticipated a big lead at half time, but Centrals fought back strongly.

Rex Cole was beginning to pick up kicks on the forward line, along with rover, Jeff Lott.

Centrals defence had tightened and harassed the Werribee forwards into missing shots for goal. Centrals had narrowed Werribee's lead to 16 points at half time.

A tough and dour struggle had developed, with both sides giving everything they had in the third quarter. Centrals again lacked determination letting Werribee out-bump and out-play them.

Werribee clinging to an eight-point lead fought hard in the last quarter. Centrals' greater ability was beginning to show on the field but not on the scoreboard. Time and desperation beat Centrals.

Final scores: Werribee 7.18 (60) d Centrals 8.9 (57).

Best: M. Kirjan, L. Crosswell, W. Kennedy, R. Coles (3), J. Lott (2), I. Laffey (1), E. Jepson (2).

B DIVISION
 Centrals were outplayed all day by the Werribee side.

Werribee's big men were dominant as they were able to win almost every centre bounce. This springboard gave Werribee every chance in attack and put Centrals' backline under pressure.

Centrals had a good player in Denis Robinson, who tried all day, taking many marks around the ground.

Another was Greg Willan, who with limited opportunities at full-forward, marked well and notched three goals.

A welcome return to the team was Rod Code, who has recovered from a broken collar bone.

Rod showed flashes of good form and should be a great boost to Centrals senior forward line. Other battlers were Bob Delaney who was a tight defender and Ian Saxon, who returned to form on the wing.

Laurie Cooke tried hard in Centrals' roving division and Alan Deans, although too small for the ruck, played his heart out.

Final scores: Werribee 13.19 (97) d Centrals 9.9 (63).

Best: D. Robinson (1), G. Willan (3), R. Code (1), R. Delaney, A. Deans.

Other goal scorers: M. Ivory (2), L. Cooke (2).
